Student Government helps others with holiday drive

Student Government spent the holiday season giving back by organizing two district-wide efforts to help those in need.

In November, the group held its annual food drive aimed at filling the shelves of local food pantries. The Alfred-Almond faculty and students collected more than 800 items for donation to the Alfred and Almond food pantries. The second grade won the prize for largest donation in the elementary building. In the high school, prizes were awarded on an individual basis. Chris Mormino won the grand prize for the greatest number of items collected. A special thank you to Mr. Brian Jacobs and Mr. Tracy Moore for their help delivering donations.

In December, the organization held its first ever Furry Friends Supply Drive to aid the Hornell Animal Shelter. The AACS student body and faculty collected and donated a bountiful amount of food, treats and cleaning supplies that will help shelter workers properly care for animals in need.

Honor Society holds blood drive

Thank you for continuing to support the blood drive program and teach the students how important it is to give! Our goal for the recent drive was 35 units and we were able to collect 30 units that will save and/or affect 90 lives. In addition, we obtained the exact amount of units needed to provide a scholarship to one student. Our students did a fantastic job with the drive. Thank you!

Maeghan Rodd and Mackenzie Ormsby greeted donors at the Honor Society blood drive.

Art Force 5 visit

Alfred University's Art Force 5, along with Dan Napolitano, made their tenth visit to second graders at Alfred-Almond. It is interesting to note that this year's seniors were the first group to experience Art Force 5 at Alfred-Almond. This fun group of superheroes teaches students about loving themselves and handling problems in creative ways. Their mission is to promote equality, reduce violence, build community, teach history and sow empathy.

Second graders enjoyed a visit from Alfred University's Art Force 5.

Annual Story Night attracts readers of all ages

A great time was had by more than 125 children, parents and community members who attended the Elementary School Improvement Team's annual Story Night on Thursday, December 7. Volunteer readers captured the attention of their audiences with spirited renditions of old favorites and new classics. Mrs. Burlingame and Mrs. Olin read Stellaluna and provided information about bats. Mr. Goho read Small Saul by Ashley Spires and The Book With No Pictures by B.J. Novak. Mr. Link read I Want My Hat Back by Jon Klassen, A Visit From St. Nicholas by Clement Clarke Moore, Christmas Magic by Lauren Thompson, I Have to Go! by Robert Munsch and Kid Sheriff and the Terrible Toads by Bob Shea. Mrs. Powers and more than a dozen student participants capped off the evening with a reading and dramatic recreation of Mr. Willowby's Christmas Tree by Robert Barry. Special thanks to Deb Cannon, Billie Jean Diestler, Melissa Jusaniec and their families for their efforts in making the Scholastic Book Fair a great success. This event raised more than $2,000 for teachers to use in purchasing books for their classrooms.

Our next event is one that you will not want to miss! Wildlife Rockstars will visit AACs on Thursday, March 8 from 5:30-7:00 p.m. We hope to see you there!

First Honor Roll Breakfast recognizes academic achievement

In December, the Secondary School Improvement Team was proud to host the now-traditional First Honor Roll Breakfast for the first quarter of the 2017-2018 school year. On Thursday, November 30, it was again standing room only as the High School cafeteria was filled with students and families to enjoy fruit, juice and the ever-popular donuts, along with recognition.

The academic achievements of the students were celebrated as Mrs. Bain-Lucey offered them her gratitude and admiration for the importance they have placed on their education along with their commitment to improve, grow, learn and challenge themselves. She thanked the parents and teachers for their support and encouragement of the students.

One hundred thirty two First Honor students were recognized by their counselors, comprising 45 percent of the student body. In order to receive First Honors, a student must obtain an average of 90 percent or higher and have no grade below an 80 percent.

Mrs. Bain-Lucey also noted that a total of 196 students achieved either first or second honor status or BOCES honors. This comprised 66 percent of the Alfred-Almond Jr./Sr. High School student body.

Congratulations to all of these students and their teachers and families for their dedication to education!

Elementary Computer Science Club members present work

This is the second year that Alfred-Almond has offered the after-school Computer Science Club for students in grades 4-6. Students enjoy exploring topics such as art, storytelling, working with computers, coding, music, video games and collaborating with friends during the club.

On Wednesday, December 20, more than 20 students and their families participated in Alfred-Almond's Elementary Computer Club Presentations, where students shared their hard work, laughed at each other's jokes and tested out each other's computer programs. It was an exciting night and a great way to to end the fall session of Computer Club.

This was the third such presentation for some students, whose projects focused on using coding and computer science skills to create video games and interactive artwork. The new members' presentations focused on using coding skills to create and tell stories. Students created unique presentations that were the culmination of nine weeks of hard, but rewarding, work.

Information and permission slips for the winter/spring Computer Science Club will be sent home to all students in grades 4-6 on Monday, January 22.
